We will take all reasonably practicable steps to achieve this commitment, to comply with our statutory obligations and to promote a positive health and safety culture throughout our organisation.

Health and safety is an integral part of our activities and whilst the Managing Director takes overall responsibility, all directors, managers and employees share the responsibility for implementing this policy.

We are aware of the legal requirements imposed upon by UK and European laws and achieve these through systems and procedures designed to make the work environment a safe place. We also ensure that any product developed conforms to health and safety standards.

- minimising the use of hazardous and dangerous substances and where their use cannot be eliminated, implementing suitable controls

Altomed Limited recognises its duty to protect the health and safety of all visitors to Altomed Limited, including contractors and temporary workers, as well as any members of the public who might be affected by Altomed Limited's work operations. We will take steps to check the competence of any contractor before their services are engaged and will ensure that all third parties are provided with appropriate information on entering our premises and in relation to our work activities.

This policy will be drawn to the attention of all new employees as part of their induction. It is the duty of each employee to take reasonable care of their own and other people's health, safety and welfare, to familiarise themselves with and implement company procedures and to report any shortcomings in the arrangements.

It is the responsibility of the QA/RA Manager to monitor the effective implementation of this policy and ensure that adequate resources are provided.

This Health and Safety Policy Statement and the Organisation and Arrangements documents which support it, will be reviewed at least annually and more frequently where there have been changes in the organisation or the activities undertaken.
